TREK

Jahoo

Gibbon watching, forest hiking and a sacred jungle waterfall

Starting at dawn you'll track down our family of habituated Gibbons through the dense rainforest with wildlife researchers. Learn from the experts as you observe these endangered apes as they swing in the forest canopy above. Breakfast at the Bamboo Camp before returning to the forest to trek deeper into the heart of the Wildlife Sanctuary to a remote jungle waterfall.

Seeing the forest through the eyes of your indigenous guide, spot other rare wildlife including endangered primates such as black-shanked douc langur, and discover traces of more elusive animals like Asian elephants. Help your guide forage in the forest and cook a traditional Bunong soup over a campfire at the waterfall. Take a nap in a hammock and swim in the natural pool and feel rejuvenated before searching for more forest wildlife before being returned to your guesthouse.

Day 1: Jahoo in Keo Seima Wildlife Sanctuary

Highlights

- Join wildlife researchers at dawn to track and observe wild gibbons in the forest canopy
- Help your indigenous guide forage and cook a traditional Bunong meal
- Hike to a remote jungle waterfall and enjoy a swim in the natural pool

DAY 1: JAHOO IN KEO SEIMA WILDLIFE SANCTUARY

ITINERARY

For full Keo Seima Wildlife Sanctuary bird list: CLICK HERE

04:45 Pick-up: Rising before dawn, you'll be collected from your guesthouse and taken to Keo Seima Wildlife Sanctuary (KSWs).

Note: The early start is recommended to improve chances of successful gibbon spotting. However, guests can request a later start, but the chances of successful gibbon spotting will be reduced.

05:15 Gibbon Tracking: Receive a quick briefing on gibbon tracking and join wildlife researchers as they begin their search for a wild family of endangered yellow-cheeked crested gibbons.

07:30 Breakfast: Return to eat breakfast at the Bamboo Camp and learn more about the conservation efforts ongoing at Jahoo to protect endangered gibbons and other rare wildlife.

08:30 Jungle Trek: Prepare for a jungle hike deeper into the Wildlife Sanctuary. Explore the forest with your indigenous guide and discover other rare wildlife.

11:00 Sacred Waterfall: Arrive at a remote jungle waterfall, cook a traditional lunch, snooze and swim whilst surrounded by lush rainforest within the heart of the Protected Area.

16:00 Departure: After more jungle trekking and spotting other endangered primates such as black-shanked douc langur return back to the Bamboo Camp.

Depart Jahoo and arrive back at your guesthouse by 17:00.
