CAMBODIA VULTURE RESTAURANT TOUR

See three critically endangered vulture species in the heart of Northern Cambodia

Deep in the heart of Northern Cambodia, the Cambodia Vulture Restaurant Tour offers two days to see the three critically endangered vultures of Cambodia; Red-headed Vulture, White-dumped Vulture and Slender-billed Vulture. You will get to see these vultures feeding on the carcass of a cow from a specially made hide to give you the best views possible. The Cambodia Vulture Restaurant Tour at Boeng Toal, Preah Vihear is one of Cambodia best and most reliable locations to see these vulture species due to the rapid decline of these species over the last couple of decades.

PLEASE NOTE: Fixed costs for this tour are high. The price per person decreases dramatically the more people join your booking.

04:30 – Wake up to go to Vulture Restaurant site

As vulture populations have crashed across Asia, Cambodia has held onto populations of the three species currently considered Critically Endangered. However, owing to a decline in wild cattle populations, Cambodia's vultures are now reliant on supplementary feeding. Joining this tour offsets the cost of running the 'vulture restaurant' and includes the local community in the efforts to save these impressive, macabre birds. A cow will be provided to the vultures and from dawn we will be able to watch the spectacle of up to fifty White-rumped, Slender-billed and Red-headed Vultures feeding on the carcass. A prepared breakfast will be provided at the Boeng Toal Vulture Restaurant site.

12:00 – Lunch at local restaurant and optional visit to Koh Ker

You have the option to stop at Koh Ker Temple, a spectacular forest temple in Preah Vihear
